

2021 through a lens

I want to help everyone suffering,

It may be a big goal but I am a big thinker,

Us youth are meant to inspire and conquer,

However, we are left with hating eyes,

I hear them say, "I love you"

What love is this?

How can you say I love you to the broken souls?

The children who live in fear,

The girls who get yelled at in the street,

The girls who get told to go back to their own country,

They evaporated to escape the dark reality,

What love is this?

They never understand why I work so hard,

Everything my mother sacrificed for me,

I could never repay that debt,

What about the stardom sparked angel who flew to the unknown?

Unable to continue,

No time.

No time.

Some people wonder whether anyone will catch them,

Expectations.

Rules.

Freedom is different to being mentally free,

I wish to save humanity,

So next time society says, "I love you"

They truly mean it.

©M.T