

Black and White

In a world of colour,
We see shades of black and white,
That always has a constant fight.
But do we know what is right?
We are all the same,
But it's such a shame,
They never get along.
Some may have respect,
Although it's never perfect.
Will it last long?
It's never fair,
But most don't care.
Will it ever end?
Can't they make mend?
We will never know,
But the light may show.
